Yuzu Kukicha Green Tea5.6
Kirishima, Kagoshima, Japan
Notes: Refreshing, Sweet, Citrus

On the fog-shrouded slopes of Kirishima Mountain, Japan's southernmost tea cultivation region, the Nishi family organically grow our Yuzu Kukicha. The vibrant green stems of Kukicha blend harmoniously with the Japanese citrus fruit Yuzu, yielding a revitalising, sweet tea with a punch of sweet citrus.

California Persian.....5.9
Fuzhou, Fujian Province, China
Notes: Floral, Sweet, Jasmine Blossom

Our California Persian starts with traditional Persian tea, which is a blend of black tea and rose petals, and then adds jasmine, orange, cardamom, and a hint of bergamot. Great with milk and sugar, this tea features high caffeine in a full-bodied floral infusion.

Liu Bao Heicha.....7.9
Liubao township, Guangxi, China
Notes: Rich, Pine, Musk, Sweet Plum

Liu Bao is the lesser known sister to Puerh Tea, but no less enjoyable. Some say that the process used to make Liu Bao is where the Shou Pu-erh tea making process originated. Made from fermented black tea and grown high in the mountains near Liubao township, Guangxi, our Liu Bao tea is aged in baskets through a process of fermentation. The flavor is rich and bold, each sip offers a sweet comforting allure of musk, pine, and sweet plum.

Tres #8 Hong Cha Black Tea8.9
Yu Chi Township, Nantou County, Taiwan
Notes: Honey, Baked Fruits, Camphor

First introduced to Taiwan in the early 1920s, The Taiwan Research and Extension Station (TRES) identified the Sun Moon Lake region of central Taiwan as providing the perfect conditions for black tea production. When infused, the large curved leaves produce a deep orange-brown hue with rounded fruity sweetness and superb cherry like aromas. Because of how dark and sweet this tea is, this tea pairs wonderfully with a croissant.

Jasmine Dragon Pearls7.9
Fuzhou, Fujian Province, China
Notes: Floral, Sweet, Jasmine Blossom

Jasmine Dragon Pearl is known as a customary welcoming beverage in Northern China. It adopts a very distinct preparation method that involves fashioning an exceptionally long leaf and bud together into tightly rolled silvery colored pearls. This award winning tea uses the youngest leaves, harvested in early spring and scented 6 times over with Jasmine blossoms. Once steeped, the pearls unravel to unleash a sweet, medium-bodied green tea with an alluring velvety texture, intonated with inviting floral tones.

GEDEB NATURAL

Country..... Ethiopia
Region.....Gedeo Zone, Yirgacheffe
Elevation..... 1900M
Organization.....Worka Cooperative
Producer.....Kebede Wako
Varieties.....Ethiopian Landraces
Process.....Dried in cherry on raised beds
Roaster Notes.....Berries, Stonefruit, Tropical Fruit

This coffee is grown by Kebede Wako and processed separate from the rest of the coffees at the Worka Cooperative, of which Kebede is a member.

The cooperative was established in 2005, and Kebede's farm is used as a model for the other members to improve their harvesting methods.

In addition to various fruit notes, we get white floral notes, brown sugar notes, and a toasted coconut aftertaste.

PITALITO

Country.....Colombia
Region.....Southern Huila
Elevation.....1400-1950m
Organization.....Cafe Origen
Producer.....50+ Smallholder farmers
Varieties.....Caturra, Castillo, and Colombia
Process.....Washed, then Sun-Dried on Patios
Roaster Notes.....Juicy, Orange, Chocolate

This coffee is grown by smallholder farmers around the town of Pitalito in Huila, Colombia.

[These producers all belong to an organization called Cafe Origen that is a step removed from the traditional cooperative model—they negotiate and sell coffee together but otherwise operate independently.

This coffee has a dominant silky notes of cocoa and citrus, but we also get notes of plum and sage.
